Your high school years are a time in your life that can never be relived. High school entails countless experiences that you, as a student, are only able to take an active part in for a short while.

Students are given the opportunity to enlarge their social horizons here at Hanover. By associating with one another, new acquaintances are made as some old friends grow closer, while other friendships fade away.

It is all a part of the high school experience: growing, learning and changing. While students are in school, most cannot wait to graduate. But once we leave, many of us miss our carefree high school days. While we move on to new experiences, for us graduation is "The Point of No Return."

Yuck! What a mess as Karen Kenning and Karen Hasse clean up after the pie-eating contest.

Right: Beth Buczek and Sherryl Cook lunch in the hallway as students talk and relax.

Students gather together in halls, classrooms, and the commons areas to see what's happening. They associate in their own special ways. Friends stand around in halls and talk and get together during school events. Although five minutes isn't a very long time to get from one class to another, students usually exchange many greetings and bits of information as they move through the halls to their lockers and on to class.

Left: Senior Jim Keilman wins over-all for the third time in the pie eating contest.

"Hi, my name is Lori Crisp," is how Lori introduced herself to the Junior Miss audience.

Something to reminisce about

Everyone has a special time or event that he or she treasures and will never forget. Our homecoming was one of them. We beat our rivals of five years and excited the spirits of many. This is "Something to reminisce about."

It was all a very exciting time to remember. Activities ran on all through the days. It all started Saturday when students from each class came to decorate their halls. All four classes had themes on which they based their hall decorations and their floats.

The junior hall, "Spirits of 80," won first place; the senior hall, "Hawk Hunt," was second, and third went to the sophomore hall with their theme, "Welcome to Commercial Avenue." The freshman theme was "Eat the Hawks." Monday was "class theme" day. The "save it, or shave it" contest started Monday also. Donations were put in two jars, one to save it, the other to shave it. Mr. John Brindley, Mr. Bruce Farley, and Mr. Ron Roller agreed to participate in this contest and all ended up shaving off their facial hair. Tuesday was "twinkie day." Student council members were sold as slaves and games were held to win points for each class.

We won it all!

Wednesday was "space day"; students dressed up as people from the future. The slaves performed their duties on Wednesday also.

Dressing to look as ugly as possible was the object of "ugly day." Thursday, girls received daisies in their home rooms and could not talk to any guy for the rest of the day. The guy with the most daisies at the end of the day was considered Mr. Irresistible. David Conrad took this title.

Finally, the big day came: homecoming. Friday afternoon began with the traditional homecoming parade. After the parade proceeded around the school, students gathered in the gym for a pep session. The pep band played, the cheerleaders cheered, and the Pomcats did their thing, for the spirit and rowdiness of homecoming was present. The junior varsity game was over and the team came out victorious after double overtime.

It was then time for presenting candidates and the queen. Mr. Basketball candidates were announced first. Dan Mantel, Jeff Gross, Joe Stark, Tom Dayberry, and Steve Seils represented the senior basketball players. Class representatives Freshman Donna Baacke, Sophomore Sandy Baacke, and Junior Penny Brown were escorted out. Then the queen candidates were announced and Jennifer Hudspeth was crowned queen.

Crowning at the dance

Mr. Basketball was to be announced at the dance after the game. By now it was time to see the varsity team defeat the Hebron Hawks. At the end of the game, they had done just that. Later, the lights went down, the spotlight appeared and Joe Stark was crowned king. The king and queen then had their slow dance together and everyone joined in.

This year we have proved that our school has both spirit and fighting power. We proved this by defeating our rivals for the first time in five years. We are now looking forward to meeting the Hebron Hawks next year and we plan to defeat them once again.

The Pom Cats once again sponsored a semi-formal dance, the Turn-A-Bout. They put in a lot of work in trying to make every couple enjoy the evening.

Pom Cats had decoration sessions Friday night and all day Saturday. Miss Gwen Schuyler volunteered to sponsor the dance. A large turnout of 93 couples attended the dance. By the majority of votes, Penny Brown took over from reigning Queen Lynn Stover.

Victor Studio photographed the girls and their dates. "Too Much Heaven" was the theme voted by the Pom Cats. Decorations featured angels and clouds.

Todd Uran and Amber Blouin enjoy fast dancing together.

Sue Hansom portrays "Emma-Lou" as she sings to a rock-n-roll beat.

There's a star on every stage

Excitement and hope show in every girl's eyes. Tonight is her night to be a star. It's a night of nerves, and yet, tears. Everyone shakes and clasps hands. Then, the time comes—over the microphone comes the familiar phrase; "Contestant number one . . ."

Nov. 4, 11 senior girls participated in Junior Miss. There were nine awards given out. They were: spirit of junior miss—Lori Sack; talent—Belinda

Endris; third runner-up Lori Crisp; second runner-up and scholastic—Chris Miller; first runner-up, physical fitness, poise and appearance—Laura Bowyer, and Junior Miss—Jennifer Hudspeth.

This isn't practice anymore. Diane Dickerson sings "Don't It Make My Brown Eyes Blue?"

Lori Sack pleases the audience with her song "Let Me Be There."

Another Barbara Streisand? Belinda Endris wins the talent singing "Evergreen."

Ride 'em cowgirl. Sherryl Cook pantomimes to the song "Along Came Jones."

Brenda Underwood entrances the audience with her speech on patriotism.

"Thoroughly Modern Mary?" Mary Austgen performs a 1922 dance routine.

Bottom: Horizon performs a '1950s' medley.

Through the year students were entertained by singing, dancing, frisbee throwing, and basketball. On Dec. 15, John Daniel Tate came to sing and joke. Songs included: "Puppet Lady," "Lonely Teenager," and the memorable "Mystery Meat."

Don Dutton and Randy Osborn, The Aces, performed Jan. 12. They showed students how to use freestyle and speed flow frisbee techniques and how to play basketball frisbee. Students and teachers both participated in throwing frisbees.

The Navy band Horizon sang many songs from different artists. "Too Much Heaven," "Y.M.C.A.," "Le Freak," and a very funny "1950s' Medley" were among the songs that were performed.

The senior-faculty basketball game was played with more spirit than ever. Even though the seniors lost by a close score of 65-55 the game was played very well.

Left: Adam Dayberry, Mr. Ron Roller, Steve Seils and Mr. Leonard Miller check to see who has the sexiest legs. Below: Tim Winland clowns it up again at the student council roller skating party. Bottom: Filling the cups on their partners' foreheads with water are students competing in one of the games at the student council spirit week convocation.

The purpose of student council is to encourage and maintain participation in school activities, to recommend ways through which the school may be improved, and to promote cooperation between the faculty, student body and administration.

Student Council has been able to raise funds to help benefit other school activities. They sent money to UNICEF. Among other things, student council got together with teachers at the beginning of the year to help them get settled in their rooms. Then, at the end of the year, the members had a teacher appreciation get-together. Student Council also participated in selling Valentines and giving holiday baskets to the needy. The members sponsored spirit week with contests, sales of slaves and the homecoming dance. This year, student council members went to a state convention and, for the first time, officers will be sent to camp this summer.

Have you ever seen a ham talking to a banana? Rick Wachowiak tries his speech out on a piece of fruit!

'Friends, Romans, and countrymen'

Speeches are a true learning experience which deals with hard work and a lot of patience. The speech team rehearses often and must get up early for competition.

The speech team competed against the following schools: Chesterton, North Judson, Munster, Hammond High, La Porte, Logansport, and participated in the Chesterton Sectional and the Munster regionals. They also competed at Valparaiso University where Tim Nolan placed first in the Porter County Conference. Rick Wachowiak was the sectional champion at Chesterton and placed sixth in the regional at Munster and was a first alternate to the state finals.

Mr. Rajchel is sponsor for the speech team.

Members of the speech team are, front: Kathy Wachowiak, Sue Harrison and Lori Crisp; back: Geoffrey Deinema, Tim Nolan and Rick Wachowiak.

Chess nuts

What's a chess nut? A chess nut is someone who is nuts about chess. During lunch hour kids can come in and play chess in room #23.

The chess team competes with different schools around the area. Even though this is the first year for competition, the team plans for a successful future.

The team, sponsored by Mr. Dan Metcalf, encountered three meets, winning at Hebron and losing twice to Lowell.

Top: Patty Neary has to really concentrate on her next move while Kristen Hodge anxiously awaits.

Middle: "Should I or shouldn't I," says Patty Neary as Rick Wachowiak looks worried, but Beth Barker sees an easy way out.

Travel to fantasy, with 'The Hobbitt'

The play is an adventure fantasy about hobbitts and dwarfs who recover treasure stolen by a dragon.

The characters include: Bilbo Baggins, played by Steve Micic; Gandalf, Mike Lueder; Dwalin, Roni Gracz; Balin, Marge Devine; Killi, Joy Schreiber; Filli, Sherry Verhust; Dori, Judy Tomaszewski; Nori, Donna Glidewell; Ori, Marie Towarnicki; Oin, Beth Buczek; Gloin, Sandy Zimmerman; Bufer, Lance Wisniewski; Bofur, Kathy Devine; Bombur, Rick Wachowiak; Thorin, Tim Nolan; Grocery Boy, Andy Wittgren; Bert, Kathy Wachowiak; Essie, Gaythee Young; Tom and Great Goblin, Patti Neary; Attendant Goblins, Kathy Wachowiak, Andy Wittgren, and Lee Ann Iaconetti; Gollum, Brenda Underwood; Elf Queen, Sheryl Cook; Second Elf Guard, Dawn Scott; First Elf Guard, Rene Partain; and Smaug, Steve Huppenthal.

The four lead characters of "The Hobbitt," Sheryl Cook, Tim Nolan, Mike Lueder and Steve Micic take a rest after the closing night's performance.

Below: Bilbo (Steve Micic) plots a way to help his dwarf friends out of prison, while Thorin (Tim Nolan) occupies the elf guard (Dawn Scott).

Three dwarves celebrate their victory over Smaug by doing their favorite thing: eating. They are: Bomber (Rick Wachowiak), Killi (Sherry Verhulst) and Filli (Joy Schreiber).

Escape to the wonder of 'Carnival'

"Carnival" is about a once magnificent carnival troupe that is touring the cities of France.

The spirit of the show was brought to the audience with rousing circus parades, hawkers throwing souvenirs into the laps of audience members, performers marching down the aisles, and feats of magic performed by Marco The Magnificent.

Students appearing in the play included: Beth Mrzlack, Mike Lueder, Jim Perrin, Sharon Furst, Lance Wisniewski, Andy Wittgren, Donna Glidewell, Lori Crisp, Mike Perrin, Larua Nolan, Judy Tomaszewski, Marge Devine, Tammie Schreiber, Kathy Devine, John Devine, Lou Ann Johnson, Jim Green, Katrina Boling, Kelly Wernersbach, Vincent Zambo, Patty Bougie, Dana Frahm, Patty Allain, Lori Suarez, Jill Zimmerman, Brenda Underwood, Geoffery Deinema, Dave Sisney and Harold Jones. And thanks to Mrs. Sue Suarez, who played the dancing bear. The band included Glen Barker, Rick Wachowiak, Beth Barker, Sue Harrison, Patti Neary, Chris Hodge and Tony Panozzo.

Jim Green presents Beth Mrzlack with a box of candy as they both join the puppets in a rowdy song about throwing hard-earned money away on candy, balloons and lollipops.

Puppeteer Mike Lueder sings about his search for self-identity as Lance Wisniewski holding Carrot Top, watches. The puppet represents Mike's emotional self.

'Knights in White Satin'

Right: Prom featured the band Abacus. They were well-liked and played a variety of music.

Prom is one of the special events that juniors and seniors look forward to during the year. The "Knights in White Satin" theme was evidenced by coats of arms, swords, knightly Sir George, and other recollections of the Camelot era. At 7 o'clock people began arriving at the House of 7G's for their medieval-style prom.

The king and queen were chosen and reigned over the evening's festivities. Court members were Jennifer Hudspeth, Lynn Stover, Toni Erickson, Deb Baacke, Dan Mantel, Jeff Gross, Dan Korthauer, and Steve Magnant. Prom ended at midnight but the memories will never end.

Vicki Harris and date Dan Mantel, along with Deb Baacke and date Jeff Lawrence, await their prime rib dinner.

'The Wild Bunch'

Senior Banquet was one of the last gatherings of one of Hanover's rowdiest classes. The banquet was held at the Broadmoor Lighthouse May 11, at 6:30 p.m.

After dinner, the tables were cleared and Rick Wachowiak read the class prophecy. He and Tim Nolan read some wills. As the evening went on awards such as sexiest body, worst driver, longest hair, and many others were given. Brenda Powers got a real shock when she was told by a waitress that her car had been hit in the parking lot. As she jumped up, though, class members told her it was a joke—part of her best car award. After the awards presentations, Iron Horse provided the dance music.

Right: Rick Wachowiak shows his excellent talent for tangling things up.

A new beginning

Co-Salutatorian Jerry Wachter receives a plaque from Principal Gordon Paquin as fellow Salutatorian Paul Kozlowski awaits his turn.

Every student is capable of learning all of the work that is put on his shoulders, but there is a day when everything changes and the student begins a new life recognized as an adult and a high school graduate.

On May 27, 1979, at 2:00 p.m., the class of '79 graduated. The students had to part with school, faculty, and friends to face the world on their own. Now they must face the world they've been preparing to meet, be it work, college or vocational training. High school is over for them now. They must start building their tomorrows today.

The personality point

Each student is one part of his or her class. Students work together as a class on money-making projects, sponsoring movies and proms. Many work together to the very final day, graduation. Classes do not make it on their own. Class sponsors and other school staff members help them on their way through high school. By working hard together, students may lose themselves but in the end a true and better identity of self prevails. Whether the person is a freshman sophomore junior, senior teacher, administrator, bus driver, custodian, secretary, "jock," "bookworm," or "burn-out," each person is an individual and has something to contribute to, and gain from, the Hanover Central experience.

There are many new, conscientious faces on this year's staff, including a new choral director, a new student council sponsor and a new thespian sponsor. Many losses, but many more gains, have occurred on this year's staff, bringing improvement to many areas. We also gained a new secretary and a new aide in the main office.

Many people feel that a large high school has many more opportunities than a smaller school like Hanover. On the contrary, there are many important advantages. Most students and faculty members know everyone by name, creating a friendlier atmosphere. Students can also get more help and attention from their teachers.

One of our most faithful substitutes, Mrs. Chris Jenneiahn, left us halfway through the year because she and her family moved.

Seniors—one rowdy bunch!

There were 125 seniors at Hanover Central this year. The '79 seniors are the third largest class to graduate from Hanover.

The senior banquet was held at the Broadmoor Lighthouse Friday, May 11.

During homecoming week the seniors really showed their school spirit by entering two floats in the parade and buying senior tee shirts from In-Sound Stereo.

Senior class sponsors Mrs. Mary Love and Mr. Gary Young asked the seniors to make major decisions through democratic votes.

Mrs. Love and Mr. Young were aided throughout the year by senior class officers Ed Shroka, Jim Keilman, Steve Watson and Sherryl Cook.

Graduation was held Sunday, May 27, at 2 p.m. in the high school gym.

Farewell Seniors of '79

'80 keeps the spirit!

"The Spirit of '80; we have spirit!" was the cry of the junior class. The class won the Spirit Jug contest for the third consecutive year. The class accumulated the largest amount of points during spirit week, including work on the spirit chain contest and some games, finishing up with the float. The junior class theme for that week of Nov. 27 to Dec. 1 was "The Spirit of 80."

Besides winning spirit week, the junior class also held its annual M&M candy sale; most students participated. All the profit went toward the Junior-Senior Prom. The prom was held May 19 at the House of 7 G's. The band was Abacus.

Even though the juniors know the end of high school is coming very soon for them, they will remember what happened to the class of '80.

In anticipation of the prom . . .

In anticipation of their chance to give the prom, sophomore class members sold approximately $425 worth of magazines. They also held a bake sale and a car wash. All proceeds from these money-making efforts go toward the Junior-Senior Prom.

The sophomore class float and hall theme (commercials) took third place in float and hall decoration competition. The sophomores worked on their float at the home of Lisa O'Bryan.

A new beginning

Ninth grade, a freshman, it's almost like first starting school again. Everything is new. The classes are different, the students are different, the teachers are different, and even the schedule is different.

But, just as in first grade, everyone has to adjust. The freshmen are no longer the oldest or tops on the totem pole; now they have to start from the bottom and work their way to the top again.

And, in a short nine months, they will be sophomores. Then they will show the new freshmen who's in charge.

Sports require hard work and devotion. Many changes occurred in the Athletic Department this year with the promotion of Mr. John Brindley as athletic director, the hiring of new coaches, remodeling of the boys' gym, and the purchase of new uniforms and equipment.

After all the long, strenuous hours of practice, the pushing toward that certain goal, or the striving to be number one, an athlete wonders if it is all worth it. When that important game, match, or tournament is won and the thrill and excitement rushes in and the pain isn't felt, that is when the athlete knows he has challenged the breaking point.

Serve, set

Hard work and winning were the goals for this year's volleyball team. There were practices held every day after school unless a game was scheduled.

There were several additions to volleyball at Hanover this year. Volleyball uniforms were purchased. Miss Ann Thompson became the new junior varsity coach, replacing Mrs. Bonnie Beamer.

Miss Carol Grady coached varsity volleyball. The conference record was 5-12 for the junior varsity and 12-8 for the varsity.

Spiking is part of the game

The '78 volleyball team had a building season, which ended with four wins and nine losses. In the conference they ended up with two wins and three losses. With four seniors and four underclassmen on the team, they finished eighth out of 20 teams in the tournament at Ball State.

Mike O'Dea, Steve Seils, Bob Gold and Jim Cochran led the way with points. They will be sorely missed next year since they have been an integral part of the team. But the team has four underclassmen who should be returning next year. The junior varsity also had a long, hard season. The team finished with one win and five losses.

"I like to coach," says Mr. Ron Roller. "We had a losing season of 4-7, but I think next year that score will be turned around."

Our school has a young tennis team and will be returning five lettermen next year. Mr. Roller said he enjoyed having the two girls, Lou Ann Johnson, and Mary Beth Buczek, participate on the team. According to Coach Roller, we had leadership from our two seniors, Don Kwiatkowski and Paul Kozlowski. Paul stated: "I like tennis a lot, but I think we should practice a lot more if we're going to get better. We really didn't have enough people on the team. Next year I think if there are more people and they practice more, they should have a better team."

A small but strong team

Cross country not only takes skill but it also takes teamwork. Teamwork is what makes the whole sport. Working together to try to make victories is what our team does.

Cross country team members have been very successful this year. They have all worked together in trying to attain as many victories as possible. Their record was 15 wins and 4 losses with a conference record of 8 wins and no losses. They came out in the end being number one in the P.C.C. championship meet.

Happiness is . . . being a Hanover Central cross country runner.

Coming in first at a cross country meet is Ken Tortorici and Rick Deno is coming in close behind him to take second place.

Bending and twisting before running is necessary before all long distance runs.

This year's cross country men are: Doug Steuer, Dan Korthauer, Dave Krebs, Rick Deno, and Craig Fuller.

Dave Krebs unsuits as he concentrates on the race ahead.

The varsity girls' basketball team had a trying season, although there were some excellent players. Unfortunately they are losing two of their senior players, Kathy Xanders and Shari Foreman. The varsity team got new uniforms that add to their appearance. Next year's team will have six returning varsity lettermen and some returning junior varsity players as well.

The large size of the junior varsity team presented advantages and disadvantages. But by the end of the season many players went up to the varsity team. The members who were left did their best. While the junior varsity team will be losing a lot of good players next year, it will be gaining some new talent.

It takes a lot of time to put together a good basketball team and our coaches have done this with both our junior varsity and varsity teams. They put out a tremendous amount of work in making our players a team.

Although the junior varsity and varsity had losing seasons, the players and coaches offered a lot of their time to the teams.

Both teams were small but very strong. The players showed great sportmanship.

In the Twin Lakes Invationals, the team came in last place. And in the Knox Invationals the grapplers came in fifth out of eight teams. Although the team did not have its best season, most wrestlers worked hard. Next year's team will have 14 returning lettermen and some returning members of the junior high team.

Even before the warm weather arrives, Hanover's track team makes its appearance. Members start conditioning for their season in February. Even though the track team was small, the members showed a large amount of enthusiasm and devotion.

The track team had a ten and four record with one tie. The team kept its good reputation by winning the Hanover Relays for the third year in a row.

For the second consecutive year they won the Conference Meet with 119 points. They also were undefeated in the Round Robin at 8-0. They placed ninth in the Sectional meet, scoring a school record 24 points. This qualified them to be Hanover's first Regional meet team, where they finished fifth.

Throughout the season, eighteen school records were set.

Golf team drives to success

The golf team started out this season with many new members. They all participated in the practices that were scheduled every day unless there was inclement weather. The home course of the Wildcats was South Shore Country Club golf course.

This year has been the most successful season in golf that was ever recorded by Hanover. Most of the players brought their averages down and each was improved by playing more 18-hole matches. The team's overall record was 19 wins and 12 losses.

Batters up! Oh no, I'm next! Can I make a home run or can't I? As I step up to the plate and get into position, the pitcher gives me a funny sneer. My heart starts to pound as the pitcher gets ready. Strike! Shoot, I missed it. I'd better concentrate a little more on what I'm doing. Here it comes. It's looking good. I know I can do it. Strike! Oh no, I did it again! How can I do that? I only have one more chance! Now I'm really nervous. The pitcher looks satisfied. The ball's on the way and I feel extra strength coming from somewhere. The ball comes in. I hit it! I'm running. I see the ball flying way out in the field. Wow! I can't believe it. It's a home run!

Best day of the year!!!

Though it's not as much fun as ditching on a normal school day, "Senior Ditch Day" is a great day anyway. Many students went to Rock Creek State Park in Illinois, while others went to Marriott's Great America, Turkey Run, or the dunes. Since this is an "approved" senior activity, few seniors showed up for school. It was a good day for everyone; the seniors got a day off from school, and the school got a day off from the seniors.

Varsity club: earning your way

The varsity club is made up of students who have received letters in one or more sports. The club is mainly a service club but it is also an honor to be a member. Athletic Director John Brindley said, "You have to earn everything. You have to earn the letter to be on the varsity club, and after you're on you have to earn your sweater and your jacket."

The parents of the varsity club members belong to the athletic boosters' club. Boosters help raise money for equipment and uniforms. This year, they're trying to get money for a new scoreboard. They raise money through fruit sales and operation of the concession stand.

Members of the varsity club are, front: Jim Keilman, Paul Kozlowski, Joy Schreiber, Vicki Schubert, Pete Burgess, Patty Austgen, Karen McMillion, Mary Austgen and Vicki Harris; second: Wes Pemberton, Dan Korthauer, Steve Seils, Chris Miller, Jennifer Hudspeth, Lynn Stover and Bev Hoeckelberg; third: Jeff Grant, Bill Torrence, Tim Sosby, Adam Dayberry, Tim Simmons, Bob Gold and Jim Perrin; fourth: Dave Krebs, Ed Shroka, Jeff Plant, Mike Perrin, Andy Wittgren, Doug Steuer and Tom Perrin; fifth: Jim Cochran, Wayne Pemberton, Gretchen Miller, Mike Lueder, Laura Bowyer, Patsy Neitzel and Ed Stover; back: Karen Urbanczyk, Jack DeVries, Michelle Hildebrand and Scott Seils.

Summer camp, hard work, much practice, new uniforms and sponsoring the Turn-A-Bout dance, "Too Much Heaven," comprised a busy year for the corps under the leadership of Captain Lynn Stover and Co-Captain Patti Doyal. Sponsor Mrs. Linda Hildebrand, helped by Miss Gwen Schuyler, contributed much to their success.

Cheerleaders

The cheerleaders started off learning new cheers when they went to cheerleading camp at the beginning of June. They practiced all summer and twice a week through the school year.

The cheerleaders were also active in other things besides games: they made breakfast for the basketball players and raised money for new uniforms.

Rick Wachowiak was high winner for the evening; he received awards for social studies, English, science, math, band, and foreign language. Valedictorian was announced—and Rick Wachowiak received his final award. Co-salutatorians were Paul Kozlowski and Jerry Wachter. Honors Night was concluded with a few words from Superintendent Dr. Larry Crabb.

Below: Bob Gold, Ken Tortorici, Dan Korthauer, Steve Seils, Coach Bruce Farley and (kneeling) Jack DeVries received recognition for their participation in track regional competition.

The athletic banquet was held May 22 for all students participating in sports and their families. It began at 6 p.m. in the cafeteria with a pot luck dinner put together by participants.

Awards were presented before and after the meal in order to get them all passed out. It took four hours in all to present athletes with their awards.

Memories are forever

During the 1978-79 school year, Hanover Central was struck a tragic blow. Senior Ron Doyal passed away as the result of a motorcycle-automobile accident.

It seemed that almost each and every one of us was deeply hurt by the loss of Ron, perhaps because Ron impressed us all with his easy-going manner and ever-present smile.

By: Tim Nolan

Ron Doyal 1961-1979.

From REO Speedwagon's "157 Riverside Avenue," Ron's favorite song:

"It was just the other day,
You probably remember it well.
Just the other day, remember that?
Just the other day, I swear to God,
It was just the other day."

'Miss You'

*I miss you in the morning,
When all the world is new;
I know the day can bring no joy
Because it brings not you.
I miss the well-loved voice of you,
Your tender smile for me,
The charm of you, the joy of your Unfailing sympathy..*

*The world is full of folks, it's true,
But there was only one of you.*

*I miss you at the noontide,
The crowded city street
Seems but a desert now; I walk
In solitude complete.
I miss your hand beside my own,
The light touch of your hand.
The quick gleam in the eyes of you,
So sure to understand.*

*The world is full of folks, it's true,
But there was only one of you.*

*I miss you in the evening,
When daylight fades away;
I miss the sheltering arms of you
To rest me from the day.
I try to think I see you yet
There where the firelight gleams—
Weary at last, I sleep, and still
I miss you in my dreams.*

THE WORLD IS FULL OF FOLKS, IT'S TRUE,
BUT THERE WAS ONLY ONE OF YOU.

Roll 'em

Three of the most popular movies this year were: "Grease," "Superman" and "The China Syndrome." Due to the nuclear leak at Three Mile Island, "The China Syndrome" became a very controversial movie since it was about a similiar event.

The Best Picture of the Year was "The Deer Hunter."

WHAT'S HAPPENING . . .

... ON THE INTERNATIONAL FRONT?

In religion, Pope Paul VI was replaced by Cardinal John Paul I. Then, after a reign of only 33 days, the new Pope died of a massive stroke. He was replaced by John Paul II, who was reigning when this went to press.

During this year, Egyptian President Anwar Sadat and Israeli Premier Menachem Begin signed a much-wanted peace treaty between their countries with help from President Jimmy Carter.

In Iran, the Shah was overthrown by Ayatullah Khomeini which caused him to flee from the country. The revolution greatly slowed Iran's oil exports to the U.S. This caused another boost in the prices of gas and oil.

In China, Deputy Premier Teng Hsiao-p'ing began a giant project to modernize his country. As a symbol of his country's new attitude, he visited the U.S.

In Jonestown, Guyana, hundreds of people were influenced by one man, Jim Jones, to commit suicide.

... ON THE NATIONAL FRONT?

In Harrisburg, Penn., there was a "nuclear nightmare." A reactor at Three-Mile Island nuclear energy plant was giving off a low but dangerous amount of radiation. Hundreds of Harrisburg families had to be evacuated.

In Jackson, Miss., spring flooding caused thousands of people to become homeless and millions of dollars' worth of damage.

Although convicted murderer Johnny Louis Evans III received a stay of execution, it looks as though capital punishment is acceptable once again as more and more convicts receive the death sentence.

... ON THE LOCAL FRONT?

Tragedy struck. A Chicago resident, John Wayne Gacy, was accused of killing 33 young men and boys. The bodies were buried under his house.

In Shelby there was also some flooding. Due to much sandbagging, there was little damage. No one will ever forget the winter and thaw of '79. Snowfall exceeded the previous record of 84 inches.

Lower left: In just a few months gas prices rose from 68.9 cents to as high as 81.9 cents a gallon for regular.

Below top: Junior Mike Rebeck fills sandbags in Shelby to help prevent flooding. Bottom: Flood waters rose to the base of sky scrapers in Jackson.

The starting point of knowledge

Right: Band members play at their fall concert.

You know that feeling: It's the night before the big test, you haven't even looked at the chapter, and your favorite show is on T.V. What will you do? If you're like most kids, you'll probably watch the show and study during the commercials. Then you'll probably watch the next show, since it looks good. After that and a trip to the 'fridge, you'll crank up your stereo and cram. Then you'll probably flag the test anyway.

Although this scene doesn't apply to everyone all the time, it's an experience to which most students can relate. Some classes require a good deal of studying, others require little, but they're all part of the learning process, and of Hanover, the starting point of knowledge.

During the yearbook presentation Ben Martinez, Mark Iaconetti, Joy McClymont and René Partain act out the "range finder" game.

Sums equal math as experiments equal science. Testing and discoveries are the main preoccupations of science classes. Dissecting frogs and sharks can be a very intricate business for members of Biology II class. Mrs. Sue Roller's Biology I class made aquariums and terrariums.

Teaching Lab Science I and II and chemistry was Mr. Dan Metcalf. Mrs. Judy Dermody taught Biology I and II and lab science, while Mrs. Roller taught Biology I and Mr. Bruce Farley taught Lab Science II.

Math includes classes in algebra, senior math, geometry, basic math, consumer education, etc. Teachers of the math staff were: Mrs. Mary Love, Mr. Bruce Farley, and Miss Melinda Overpeck.

The annual Spanish-French Cultural Exchange did not occur this year. Instead the French students prepared and ate French foods. The Spanish classes had two visitors from Mexico, Carlos Del Rio and Arturo Carrion. They were guides for the students who went to Mexico last year.

Remember "Tactics"? For the first time literature texts included lessons on how to become a better reader. Mrs. Roberta Green and Miss Gwen Schuyler were added to the Communication Arts staff.

Music takes a trip

Griselda was the reindeer that nobody knew. The choral department introduced her Dec. 15 in a choir musical written and directed by choir teacher Miss Rebecca Crabb.

In addition to Griselda, Miss Crabb wrote the choir musical that was presented in the spring; "Joe and Molly."

Miss Crabb started an all-girls swing choir consisting of 13 girls; one of these girls is a senior, the rest are underclassmen. Miss Crabb expects most of them to be back next year.

The choir sold popcorn to earn money to visit Mariott's Great America in May. Each person had to sell six decanters to attend.

The band, under the direction of Mr. John Gorbail, sold Merry Bells and Lovekins and held Rubbermaid and Beeline Clothing parties. They raised approximately $1,300 from these money-making projects. In the spring the band held a stereo raffle. All proceeds from these money-making efforts went toward a three-day-trip to St. Louis to visit Six Flags Over Mid-America. All high school band members and a few eighth grade members went on the trip.

The band also participated in The Six Flags Over Mid-America Music Festival at Washington University in St. Louis.

Societies work together

Members of the National Junior Honor Society are Pete Burgess, Selena Scott, Kim Tussey, Lee Ann Iaconetti, Missy Sheehy and Keith Koszut.

Hanover boasts two honor societies: National Honor Society (senior high) and the National Junior Honor Society (grades 7-9).

What are students in the societies recognized for? For their scholarship, leadership, service and character. Our goal for Honor Society members is to serve the school. Honor Society activities include inductions of new members and a new teacher luncheon, the Senior-Faculty Basketball Game, raising money for donations to worthy causes, and helping in other ways.

"This year we've had few meetings," said Sponsor Gary Young, "because society officers have been very busy with other endeavors."

There isn't any set number of students who can be members of the honor societies. As many or as few students who qualify are inducted. Thus the Honor Societies renew themselves annually with a new group of students who are honored and who will work to serve the school and community.

Society: the way it is and was

Social studies is the study of society the way it is and was. Students are introduced to the challenges of the past and present. They are taught how laws are used and administered, how our society functions, and why people behave the way they do.

Hanover's 1978-1979 social studies' staff includes: Miss Ann Thompson, who teaches government, economics, and U.S. history; Mr. Dick Norris and Mr. John Brindley, who each teach a U.S. history class and Mr. Brad Stewart, who teaches government, economics, sociology and psychology.

Getting the business

"Don't look at your fingers."
"Add those columns straight."
"Translate those letters." These are just some of the things that business teachers Mr. James Nicholas, Mr. Ron Roller and Mr. Bill Whitestone might say.

This year, future secretaries had a chance to order tee shirts that said "I'm Your Type" or "Super Secretary," written in shorthand or printed.

Mr. Nicholas teaches accounting and Typing II and has been here for 13 years.

Mr. Roller teaches future secretaries how to take and translate shorthand. Mr. Roller has been at Hanover six years.

Hanover has really had trouble keeping typing teachers this year! In the beginning of the year, Mr. Robert Gross was teaching typing. He left right before the end of the first semester. Mr. Corey Goers came as a replacement. Mr. Goers stayed at Hanover for only three weeks. Mrs. Christine Jenneiahn then taught those classes, but she had to leave in March. For the last few months, Mr. Whitestone taught the sixth-hour typing class.

Industrial arts is an area where ability can be a great asset. Shop classes give students a chance to build and construct things they enjoy most.

The auto class purchased an old Honda Civic and let students pound their aggression out on it for a quarter. All proceeds went toward the electric car that is being built this year.

The woods classes constructed a variety of items in wood, while the metals classes made racks, tables, belt buckles and much more. Graphic arts classes worked on the school newspaper and other projects, while drafting classes worked on blueprints. These classes are taught by: Mr. Phillip Apple, graphic arts; Mr. Norman Holmes, woods; Mr. Gregg Hogge, metals; Mr. David Bruzek, auto shop, and Mr. John Shipley, drafting and photography.

A stitch and a stir: so go the foods and sewing classes. This year's food classes, under the direction of Mrs. Sharon Hopkins, walked to the Certified grocery store to compare prices of food items. They also had representatives from Tri-State Packing who demonstrated the proper way to butcher a hog.

Under the direction of Mrs. Claire Cartmell, the clothing classes went on field trips to the Punch and Judy Day Care Center in Crown Point, the Northwest Indiana Educational Cooperative, divorce court, several fabric stores and the Museum of Natural History.

Stretch and Sew Fabric Shop presented a fashion show for the home economics classes.

Photography and art are the creations of beauty as the artist perceives it. Taking pictures is one way to capture a special moment which disappears in a few seconds. The class is taught by Mr. John Shipley. He teaches students how to develop and print black and white as well as color film.

The art classes worked on pottery, drawing, collages, and lots of other projects.

Art classes, under the direction of Mr. Dwight Scroggins, help students to express themselves through drawing and painting. Whether a student is talented or not, it takes time and patience to become a true artist.

Yearbook seeks revenge!

During the first annual yearbook and newspaper Christmas party, the Revonah staff very smoothly creamed the Key staff in a volleyball game first and then in a basketball game. After the sports came the fun: both staffs joined together in the home economics room for pizza and punch, where the yearbook staff declared they would get their REVENGE! and challenged the Revonah to a softball game in the spring.

The fearless leaders of the Key and the Revonah are Editor of the Key: René Partain; Editor of Revonah: Todd Teets, and Associate Editor of Revonah: Connie Werner. These three people put in long hard hours during the year.

The sponsor of these publications is Mr. Randy Kahn.

"Oscars" were given for Best Actor: Mike Lueder; Best Actress: Beth Mrzlack; Best Supporting Actor: Tim Nolan; Best Supporting Actress: Sharon Furst; and Best Thespian: Rick Wachowiak. A special 50th Anniversary Award was given to Steve Micic.

The excellent food was only surpassed by the entertainment and fellowship.

Below: Laura Nolan sang "What I Did for Love" from "Chorus Line."

Hanover Central's Journalism Banquet

Deadline! Oh No! It's time again for pages and copy to be done. Staff members are desperate, but dedicated and determined to complete this job.

The publications' staffs held their second annual honors banquet Wednesday, May 23, at 6:30 p.m. in the school cafeteria. Staff members and their parents were invited and a buffet-style, potluck dinner was served. Following the dinner, the 1978-79 editors of the Revonah and the Key held a celebrity roast of publications' sponsor Mr. Randy Kahn.

Awards given included the Cedar Lake Journal Excellence in Writing Award to Jeff Crabb, Most Valuable Staffer Awards from the Post-Tribune and The Times to Editors Todd Teets and René Partain, and many more.

The point of prosperity

At one time or another, high school students reach the point of a "money crunch." Some need money for buying cars, taking out dates, buying clothes, lunches, and car maintenance. Such a "money crunch" can bring about a student's first involvement with business and earning money.

Businesses help students by employing them and, in some cases, their parents. Besides earning money, students who work meet new people and encounter new experiences. If they work hard, first jobs can mark the point in students' lives when they begin to prosper, both economically and in the sense of living full, rich lives.

The point of no return

Student Life—students gather in halls, classrooms and at school events to see what's going on. Students seem to make it a point to associate in their own special ways.

Album—Each student is one individual part of his or her class. By working together, students may lose themselves but in the end a true and better identity of self prevails.

Sports—sports require hard work and devotion. The athletes strive toward that certain goal, only to finally realize that they've challenged the breaking point.

Academics—Some classes require a good deal of studying; others require very little. They're all part of the learning process of Hanover and the starting point of knowledge.

Business—The first working experience can mark the point in students' lives when they begin to prosper, both economically and in the sense of living full, rich lives.

The yearbook sponsor and staff would like to thank the following people: our Newsfoto counselor, Derald Ailes; Principal Gordon Paquin; assistant Principal Joseph Fetty; English Department Chairman Gary Young; Student Council; Mr. Quentin Barker; Mr. John Shipley and his photography class; Kelly Sheldon and Lani Braswell; Bruce Penrod and Al and Dorothy Massena of Victor Studio.

We would also like to thank the 350 students and faculty members who showed their support by buying our publication.
